

TUESDAY'S TIDE.

Still Casting Political Treasure on Democratic Shores.

Four United States Senators Probably to Be Gained.

The Next House to Have but 93 Republican Members.

With the gain of a United States Senator each from New York, New Hampshire, Illinois and Wisconsin, which the Democrats now seem almost certain to acquire, the minority in the upper House of the City-second Congress will find itself only six behind the majority, and to secure this lead the Republicans need all the Senators from the new States which they so hastily admitted to the Union for this very purpose.

Latest returns this morning indicate that the Democrats will have a majority of two—with one yet left for two more on the joint ballot in the New York State Legislature.

New Hampshire and Wisconsin will also have Democratic majorities on joint ballots, and in Illinois the chances continue to increase for the election of a Democrat to succeed Senator Fairwell.

Connecticut's Legislature will probably have ten Republican majorities on joint ballots.

The figures representing the political condition of the next House of Representatives today at 9:30 in favor of the Democrats, giving the latter a clear majority of 145.

This is a Democratic gain of 34 members in the Eastern States, 33 in the Western and 43 in the Southern States.

California elected the Democratic broom and elected a Republican Governor, Markham, by 10,000 plurality.

Florida shows a heavy Democratic gain in all respects, not a county returning a Republican plurality.

Colorado elects a Democratic State Treasurer, and the party claims other State offices, while the Republicans cling to the Legislature.

Kansas today shows the possible election of Humphreys, then, for Governor, but the Farmers' Alliance takes everything else.

United States Senator Ingalls can hardly be elected again.

In Nebraska the plurality for Boyd, Democrat, for Governor, is now placed at 3,000.

Montana requires the official count on Congressmen.

The Tide in Wisconsin.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 7.—A Democratic Governor, a Legislature Democratic by thirty majority and eight Democratic Congressmen out of nine, is the way the tide runs in Wisconsin. The Democrats will elect the next United States Senator, and at least six candidates are already pushing their claims.

The Alliance Wins in South Dakota.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 7.—Latest returns from South Dakota show that the Alliance has won the Governor and the Legislature will also have an Alliance majority. Republicans concede the defeat of Senator Moody.

The New Hampshire Senatorship.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 7.—It is probable that Congressman C. C. Moore will be the Republican candidate for United States Senator to succeed Senator Blair.

Must Ingalls Go, Too?

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 7.—It is declared by politicians here that Mr. Ingalls is elected re-elected, and that his successor is likely to be either William, Farmer's Alliance candidate for Governor, or Robinson, the Democratic candidate.

Contested Seats in the Assembly.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) ALBANY, Nov. 7.—Democratic candidates will contest the elections for Assembly in Chenango, Yates and Montgomery counties, on the ground of fraud and violation of law.

POINTERS ON THE RACES.

Tipsters' Opinions as to the Various Winners To-Day.

Programme of the Several Events to Be Run Off.

Six races are to be run off at Elizabeth today, and the entries for the several events promise very good racing. The feature is a mile race, in which Reporter, Mabel Glenn, Cousin Jennie and Al Farrow are named to start.

In the first race a good lot of two-year-olds are named to go. Michael is in rare good form, and seems to be the pick of the lot. He should win with Deany very close to him at the finish. Young Grace ought to beat the others.

The Irish in the second looks to be between Major Dome and Belwood. It looks like a toss up as to the winner, but Belwood won in such easy style yesterday that he ought to repeat his performance to-day. Major Dome ought to be second, Cynosure may be third.

Al Farrow ought to win the third race. Reporter should be second, and he will run well. Cousin Jennie ran well yesterday for a mile, and she may be third.

Bush Bolt will win the fourth race, providing Jimmie and his partner do not come in. Jimmie ought to beat him out, otherwise Bush Bolt may win. Cousin Jennie and Al Farrow are named to start.

There does not appear to be anything in the fifth race except Meriden, and the speculators who are not sure enough to back him on the other day ought to wait back their investments today. Cousin Jennie may be second and Lady Reel ought to be third.

Billy Lakeland may have another one of his good things in the last race of the day. If he is in the race, he ought to win. Cousin Jennie may be second and Longford ought to be third.

The Sporting World makes these selections:

First Race—Hithe, Peter.
Second Race—Belwood, Defiant.
Third Race—Major Dome, Cousin Jennie.
Fourth Race—Bush Bolt, Laina.
Fifth Race—Meriden, Lady Reel.
Sixth Race—Ernest, Yerwood.

FOG THAT COULD SIT ON.

New York's Densest Visitation of Vapor in Many Years.

Land and Water Traffic Seriously Impeded—No Accident Yet.

Thick, penetrating, grayish yellow fog enveloped New York, Brooklyn, Jersey and the territory adjacent this morning, delaying travel by rail, sea, and causing considerable inconvenience to every one.

The fog waited in from old ocean at 5:15 o'clock last evening, increasing rapidly in density, so that by 10:30 P. M. every vessel not actually obliged to be in motion tied up safely to some pier to await clear weather.

The Staten Island ferryboats ran in regular order up to their usual hour for stopping last night, but then made no sort of schedule time. The fog was as thick as ever seen here before, and it is a matter of wonder that no disaster had been reported this morning on account of it.

After midnight the fog grew thicker and thicker, but no eyes could pierce the vapor for more than a few feet. At daylight fog pellets were sending out their cold warnings from every pier on the East and North rivers, and from points down the bay.

Ready fog was enveloped in the thick mist, and the city that the fog was so thick on could not be seen. The steamship Sparadise, from Hamburg, was the only vessel reported this morning, and she had to remain at Quarantine, as the fog was so thick that it was dangerous for her to attempt to come up to the city.

The Jersey Central, of the Jersey Central Railroad Company, narrowly escaped a serious collision on her 6 o'clock trip to New York this morning. She was standing slowly across the Hudson, when suddenly, up out of the fog, right ahead of her, loomed the outline of the Hudson River Ferryboat, which was coming up the river.

Before the pilot on the Central could signal the ferryboat to stop, the ferryboat bumped against the steamship, and it was a very narrow escape. The Central was going so slowly that she did not suffer any damage, but the ferryboat was damaged, and the passengers on the ferryboat were frightened.

It was also reported that a ferryboat of the Staten Island Ferry Company, which was coming up the Hudson, was nearly involved in a collision with the Central this morning. The ferryboat was coming up the Hudson, and the Central was coming down the Hudson, and they were nearly involved in a collision.

Some of our boats collided with anything, he said, "but of course we are really inconvenienced by the fog. Since we began running this morning, we have had one or two collisions, but nothing serious. The fog is so thick that it is dangerous to run, and we are all very careful." The fog is so thick that it is dangerous to run, and we are all very careful.

STANLEY TAKES A DAY OF REST.

He Will Witness "Dr. Bill" and "Poor Jonathan" To-Night.

Invitations Declined on Account of His Health—Monday's Reception.

Mr. Stanley and his party are resting quietly today at the Everett House, and none of them was seen outside of their rooms during the forenoon.

Mr. Stanley himself was considerably upset after the fatigues of yesterday, and did not breakfast this morning till nearly noon. The other members of the party, who rose earlier, found much to interest them in the morning papers.

Mr. Stanley has made a complete statement in regard to the affairs of the rear column of his last expedition in Africa, and of the discoveries which have arisen between him and the under officers at the camp at Tamboya, and feels that there is nothing more to say in justification of the course which he has passed upon Major Bartlett's subordinates.

Heathcote will be devoted entirely to the work which has brought him to this country, that of lecturing upon his most recent discoveries in the Dark Continent, and relating the wonderful story of his rescue of Emin Pasha, and the perilous march through the tropical forests of Africa.

There were no callers for Mr. Stanley at the Everett House this morning, but his mail brought him a great number of telegrams and letters, and he was obliged to answer them. He was also obliged to answer a great number of telegrams and letters, and he was obliged to answer them.

Mr. Stanley has already said so to a great many invitations, and will have to decline a great many more if he expects to do any lecturing at all. He feels that he must be careful of his strength, to enable him to finish his work in Africa, and he feels that he must be careful of his strength, to enable him to finish his work in Africa.

2 O'CLOCK.

GIBBONS WINS.

Defeating Ex-Champion Cushing for the Second Time.

A Knock-Out Blow Given in the Nineteenth Round.

The Brooklyn Man Unconscious for a Full Minute.

(SPECIAL TO THE EVENING WORLD.) BROOKLYN, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Mike Cushing, of Brooklyn, the former 135-pound champion of America, met his second defeat at the hands of Austin Gibbons, of Paterson, N. J., in a hall near the Broadway line between Hoboken and Connecticut, early this morning.

It was a scientific battle, and the two hundred men who managed to get there after many hours of travelling through a dense fog, were well rewarded.
